

DANIEL ECHEVERRY

RISING JUNIOR

PERSONAL

As a young teen, I like to stay involved in my community through advocating for important issues and I have a desire to expand my knowledge through learning a vast variety of important skills. My plans and desire is to influence my siblings and students around me to become better students through my life example. I have worked hard to become a straight A student, and that has lead me to understand that success in life is accomplish through hard work. I firmly believe in the saying that "discipline is the refining power by which talent becomes ability" and through my dedication, I pray to achieve my goal of attending Andrews University as well as the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
